Five Area Men Set Sail Around the World

Everyone at one time or another has dreamed about taking that daring opportunity. Like starting your own business, writing a book, or maybe sailing around the world.

For five local men, dream has become reality.

Chris Smith, Bill Fallon, Mark Parsons, and brothers Matt and Tim Sperry will be embarking on a two-year trip around the globe in their refurbished vessel, Lazarus, on Sunday, October 25.

The five friends will be sharing the journey on a 48-foot Formosa 41, which they had the luck of purchasing after it was heavily damaged in Hurricane Bob last year.

"While looking the boat over at the yard, we learned from a friend who worked there that the boat could probably be purchased at a very low price," said Chris Smith in the premiere issue of The Lazarette, a newsletter devoted to the crew's exploits. "We submitted a bid to Boat US, the insurance company who owned it. It was the highest, and we were the proud owners of one seriously damaged sailboat."

The five put in over 2,000 hours of hard work to "resurrect" their new purchase. After patching up the entire port side of the main salon along with all four deck hatches and two bulkheads, the group was satisfied the vessel was fit to set sail and made plans to give the boat a new lease on life.

Incidentally, the name — which was settled on after eight months of haggling among the five sailors — was suggested by David "Cappy" Perkins, a friend of one crew member, and is a reference to the Biblical character whom Jesus raised from the dead.

Not only is this trip a historic landmark for the participants, but also for students at Old Rochester Regional Junior High School (ORRJHS), where all five attended classes.

This week, the five-member crew returned to their alma mater to meet with students during a rally in the school's gymnasium. After being introduced by teacher Carol Fletcher, who is working as liaison between the crew and school, each took a turn at fielding questions from the eager students.

A cooperative agreement was forged between Principal Robert Gardner and the school's adventurous alumni shortly after plans for the trip around the world were made. As a result, ORRJHS' fundraising efforts have provided the crew with a VHS camcorder on which to record their journey and mail back tapes to students on a periodic basis. Plans for a complete documentary of the journey are also in the works.

In addition to the bi-monthly subscription newsletter, the crew has also agreed to keep ORRJHS abreast of any developments and/or changes in their route, which Social Studies teacher Steve Kocur plans to plot on a wall-sized map to generate discussion with his classes.

"I hope to be able to discuss each place the (crew) visits with my class and talk about the culture and climate," Mr. Kocur said.

The group's rough itinerary, which is likely to change en route, includes the following stops:

- October — Carribbean via Bermuda
- November — Virgin Islands through Carribbean
- December — End of Carribbean, Venezuelan coast and Panama

1993

- January — west coast of Central America (possibly Galapagos and California)
- February — 4-6 week passage to Hawaii
- March — two weeks in Hawaii
- April — Marquesas via Christmas Island
- May — wander across South Pacific
- June — Fiji and south to New Zealand
- July — New Zealand to Australia
- August — Australia
- September — Indian Ocean via Bali
- October — Bali to Singapore
- November — Singapore to Sri Lanka
- December — east coast of Africa

1994

- January — begin down east coast of Africa
- February — arrive in Cape Town
- March — west coast of Africa
- April — arrive in South America
- May — begin home via the Carribbean
- June — sail home

For Chris Smith, Bill Fallon, Mark Parsons, and Matt and Tim Sperry, the fun all begins at Burr Brothers' boatyard in Marion on Sunday, October 25 at 12:00 noon, when the maiden voyage of the Lazarus is slated to begin.

If you would like to show your support, come out and wish the crew well on their journey. Or you can get the latest word from around the globe firsthand by subscribing to The Lazarette. Bon voyage and happy sailing!

An Amateur's Summer Summary or

I Don't Do Bird Walks

By A.H.S.

The first thing you have to know is that I'm not a bona fide, die-hard birder. I don't rise at dawn to invade their dark, damp territories. I don't even do outdoors unless it's after 11 am and over 60 degrees. And dry. My binoculars are not capable of focusing on the right tree.

Having said all that, you'll gather — correctly — I'm not the person to ask "what bird is that?" If you don't know, I probably don't either. Oh, our household has lots of bird books, but it seems an inordinate number of subspecies or birds found only in western Arizona find their way into our yard.

And yet ... I'm a birdwatcher. Armed only with naked eyeballs, an array of feeders and the interior (warm) side of a kitchen window, we can enjoy the wondrous world that's out there just for the looking.

There are hard-nosed purists who tell us not to feed in the summer on the grounds that we are depriving birds of their natural habits and diet. After many years of warm weather generosity, we see no sign of dependence — what we have seen are lots of birds and, best of all, baby birds.

Since raccoons, skunks and possums polish off any residual food at night, and since the avian waking time is, I'm told, somewhere around dawn, we know they're not depending on us. They'd starve before we got up. Add to that the fact that our summer rations are minimal, and then subtract what the squirrels eat. Perhaps "generosity" was not the right word.

The first summer visitor was the male Northern Oriole, who was only too happy to thrill us by using our suet feeder to recover from his travels. Yes, this used to be the Baltimore Oriole, but a new name doesn't change his glowing beauty. Working the branches under the suet feeder for crumbs was the catbird, who arrived from the south at the same time. Have you ever heard two species who announced their arrivals so loudly? Speaking of clamorous birds, the Carolina wrens, now year-round residents, also make an acrobatic job of pursuing suet crumbs in the bushes.

The busiest suet eaters are the woodpeckers. Two pairs of downy woodpeckers come from opposite directions and while one pair is dominant over the other, the males top the pecking order. Since the females back off with little prompting, it's clear they're saying "what the heck — there's plenty of suet. Let the idiot think he's a big deal." Betty Friedan would not approve.

One mother downy would follow us from window to window, hurrying us to refill the raccoon-vandalized feeder. And yet, if she was too slow doling out scraps, the kids would busy themselves "bugging" adjacent branches or, on occasion, a parent's head.

The hairy woodpeckers announce their arrival loudly, a scare tactic, we think, but just a look at the size of their beaks should be enough to clear out the competition.

Again, we had the privilege of seeing a new generation up close and personal. Another woodpecker visitor last spring was the yellow-bellied Sapsucker, which is fun to say as well as to see. He was a cheap guest, ignoring our offerings in favor of methodically working every inch of the pignut tree. As friendly as he was, he left after a week.

Other regulars at the feeders include titmice (three rusty-tonsilled successive hatchings), chickadees (who can count chickadees?), white-breasted nuthatches, goldfinches and house finches, both in abundance, one pair of purple finches which delighted us since we haven't seen them in

Ground feeding have been cardinals, with three batches of kids this summer — the last "baby" still being fed and tended to in October, long after his feathers have reddened (are birds subject to the empty nest syndrome?), song sparrows (and this year they weren't raising cowbirds), a few mourning doves, and the mother lode of pigeons. Call them "rock doves" if you will. It doesn't help. Chewinks (towhees), a wood thrush, a swamp sparrow, cedar waxwings and a black and white warbler have been lucky sightings.

So summer's gone, and with it some of our friends. But that means it's almost time for the plaintive call of "Oh Sweet Canada, Canada, Canada," signaling the return of the white-throated sparrows. And who knows what else? Now what's that bird I confuse with the pine siskin?

Post Script: The first white-throat appeared Monday, October 19, accompanied by a sure sign we'd better hurry the storm window repairs — the junco, much maligned as the "snowbird."

Welcome back, anyway.

Adoptable Animals

Still Searching for that Halloween Pumpkin?

Our weekly feature on adoptable pets in the area brought to you in cooperation with the local chapter of Animal Umbrella, Inc., begins on a surprising note.

Last week's darling little Halloween kitty, "Pumpkin," who is orange and black with orange eyes and one ear that tips forward, is still available for adoption! We were sure that someone would be anxious to add this little "creature" to their ghoulish collection.

But it's not too late.

Through our efforts, however, the group did manage to place three tigers last week — one in Marion, one in Rochester and one in Acton (go figure).

In addition, we have another cache of wonderful kittens to choose from ... a veritable basketful, if you can see what I mean.

Among others available, there are three all-black females, ranging from 8 to 10 weeks old. All are short-haired. Also, a buff-colored male who goes by the name of "Buffalo" is waiting to stampede into your living room. "Buffalo" is 8 weeks old and in foster care in the area.

There are also two tigers up for adoption if that's your preference. Each of the two — one male, one female — has white paws. And, the pièce de resistance: two calico kittens, both all-grey.

According to the group's capable leaders, Mary Lou Kobak and Priscilla Thompson, new adoptees are arriving every week. Although that puts the burden on them to find homes for their other "roomies," it gives you another option every week from which to choose that "special" companion.

We've had little to no response on our call for puppies and other household pets in the area. Please feel free to call us at The Wanderer (758-9055) if we can be of assistance in placing the product of your pet's litter in good homes.

Or ... if you'd like to adopt any of our offerings this week or help the efforts of Animal Umbrella, Inc., simply call Mary Lou (994-6168) or Priscilla (758-2896).

The Wanderer supports the efforts of Animal Umbrella, Inc., and would like to remind tri-town residents to watch out for those wandering pets when driving in residential areas.

lifted the Boil Order which had been in effect for ten days. After taking three clear samples from various town water tanks and being satisfied that the system had been flushed of the fecal coliform bacteria, Mr. Nicholson made his decision at 9:00 am Monday morning, and notified the media of the Boil Order lift.

Mr. Nicholson cited the North Street tower as "the best candidate" for the cause of the fecal coliform contamination and is in the process of flushing and draining the infected tank.

Around the same time, however, Executive Secretary Ray E. Pickles made the call to place Marion residents on a Boil Order having detected coliform bacteria in successive routine water samples taken on October 14 through October 18. Infected sites included lower Converse Road and Point Road below the water tower.

In a separate incident on October 19, Water Department employees detected sodium silicate tanks which had been contaminated with ammonium hydroxide at the Main and Wolf Island pumping stations.

By 11:00 am on the morning of October 19, the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) issued a town-wide "Boil Order" for Marion, to remain in effect until having received three consecutive days of clear water samples. This means that the order won't be lifted until, at the earliest, Monday, October 26.

As a precautionary measure, Rochester Secretary Shirley Ferreira was advised by Mr. Pickles to urge residents who are tied into the Marion system to follow the Boil Order as well. Those tapped into the Marion system include, among others, residents along New Bedford Road and Marion Road (Route 105).

Effected residents are urged to boil any water to be taken internally for two to five minutes before use, or to stock up on bottled water as a precautionary measure. Straight tap water is recommended for showering and washing only.

For further announcements concerning water use, contact your local water department or consult Continental Cablevision's Bay 8.

After signing bills, payrolls, licenses, permits and correspondence for the week, the board moved two new appointments as per the recommendation of the Council on Aging and Mattapoisett Historical Commission.

First, selectmen appointed Patrick Dawson of 14 Winnatuxett Beach Road to the Mattapoisett Historical Commission, filling a vacancy on the now five-member board.

Also appointed to fill a vacancy on the Council on Aging was Evelyn C. Jenks as per the request of COA Chairwoman Evelyn Pursley.

Selectmen next signed a Memorandum of Agreement with the state Department of Public Works (DPW) in order to be eligible for State Aid Highway monies through next fiscal year. Mattapoisett's state allotment for FY 1993 is $42,386.

Selectman Mahoney moved that the Town of Mattapoisett enter into an agreement with the state Highway Department so that available grant monies might be used to do construction, reconstruction, improvements and general repairs of public ways throughout town under Chapter 90.

The board next approved a request from ComGas to obstruct and disturb the surface of 5 Reservation Road for the purpose of repairing an emergency gas leak. A second request from ComGas was also approved to obstruct and disturb the surface of 9 Hathaway Lane for the purpose of repairing an emergency gas leak.

After approving the minutes from Board of Selectmen meetings held on October 6, October 11 and October 15, Chairman DeCosta next cited the following meetings scheduled throughout the week:

- October 22 — 7:30 pm, Rod Taylor Grant Hearing (Taylor Seafood), Town Hall Conference Room
- October 22 — Plymouth County Budget Meeting (Chairman DeCosta will attend)
- October 24 — 8:00 am, Meeting between Selectmen and Highway Surveyor to view various town roads in need of repair.

At 7:30 pm, Water Superintendent William Nicholson along with other members of the Water Department and the Board of Health met to discuss two pending matters with the Board of Selectmen.

First was the status of Mattapoisett water in the wake of the previous 10-day Boil Order which went into effect when a small level of fecal coliform was detected in the town water supply.

Mr. Nicholson explained that the Boil Order had been lifted on Monday (October 19) morning at 9:00 am after both he and the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) determined in tests throughout the weekend that no dangerous levels of bacteria were present in the water. According to Mr. Nicholson, the North Street tower, which he still considers "the best suspect" for the cause of the contamination, is presently out of service and is being vacuumed and cleaned before being refilled.

Since this is now an off-season for the town, Mr. Nicholson is not concerned about keeping the tank off-line for a few days in order to thoroughly flush any remaining contamination out. He plans to bring in back on-line within the next 10 days and will perform some additional tests before doing so.

When Selectman Mahoney asked what can be done to prepare for a future situation of this sort, Mr. Nicholson said he would approach the matter much in the same way he did this one.

"All we can do is be as vigilant as we can to stop such problems in the future," he said. "We hope to do some further testing with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to try to develop some data on water quality in the future."

The next item on the agenda was a discussion with both the Water Department and Board of Health regarding the former property owned and operated as Joseph's Restaurant on Route 6. Present for the discussion were Greg Manship and Esther Riggs from Connecticut, and Florence Riggs from Mattapoissett, all of whom are interested in a joint venture as new owners/renters of the property.

Water Department member Robert Fields began by informing the board that since their discussion last week on the matter, he had talked to Mr. Nicholson about coming in to determine, based on Joseph's use, what the location was using on average.

In addition, Mr. Fields wanted to determine what would be in the best interest for both the town of Mattapoissett and any prospective buyer. Last week, most of the board members agreed that tying into Fairhaven's sewer system would be both cost-effective and convenient.

According to Mr. Manship, his original intent was to find out what it would cost to tie into Fairhaven's system.

The business, which is now in Chapter 7 after declaring Chapter 11 bankruptcy, has not affected the land and building, which are privately owned by Joseph's previous proprietor. According to Ms. Riggs, they are looking at a short-term lease for next year and hope to open after making the necessary repairs — among them, removing the existing septic system and tying into Fairhaven's sewer line.

"It would only benefit us to tap into the sewer as potential property owners before opening our doors," Ms. Riggs said. The cost incurred for any engineering studies and/or construction of said tie-in line would be absorbed by the prospective owners.

"That would certainly be part of our negotiations and would probably come off the buying or leasing price of the property," Mr. Manship said.

Both Selectman Lambalot and Selectman Mahoney seemed to side with them in wanting to tie into the Fairhaven sewer system and were pleased to hear that it wouldn't incur any cost to the Town of Mattapoissett.

"I'm inclined to support tying into the (Fairhaven) sewer system," Mr. Lambalot said. "It's in their best interest and the best interest of the town."

"I think we should go on record as saying that we generally support the proposal to have the new owners or leasees of the property formerly doing business as Joseph's Restaurant tie into the Fairhaven sewer system and thereby take the septage out of Fairhaven's capacity and not ours," Mr. Mahoney said.

Florence Riggs agreed that was the best way to proceed and made a commitment to

"We have no problems with paying for both the engineering and construction costs associated with this project," she said.

It was agreed, therefore, that after learning of their status as potential renters from the existing property owner and the feasibility and cost associated with tying into the Fairhaven sewer system, the interested party would consult both Mattapoisett and Fairhaven as to their decision.

The Board next went over incoming correspondence for the week, beginning with two renewal requests for outdoor advertising signs to be used by the Mattapoisett Boatyard (Route 6, opposite Brookside Drive) and the 1812 House (Route 6 and County Road), to take effect through December 31, 1992. The board unanimously approved the renewals.

A letter was sent to Selectmen from Superintendent of Schools Joan M. Walsh regarding the recent reauthorizing of a debt in the amount of $60,000 to finance the cost of architectural and engineering services at Old Rochester Regional High School. This was sent in the aftermath of Rochester's defeat of an override to provide their share of the necessary funds.

Since Mattapoisett has already voted to appropriate said monies for the study, Selectman Mahoney made it known that no further Town Meeting action or special election need be conducted.

Cost estimates were also submitted to the board from Middleboro Fire Apparatus, Inc. on the town's 1972 Farrar pumper for the Fire Department. The total estimate to repair the pumper engine is $45,000. Chief Wood will come before the Board next week to discuss this matter further, before which time Selectmen agreed to study the specifications of the work which need to be done.

Swansea's Fire Department Company No. 2 extended an invitation to the board to attend an Open House for the purpose of viewing the department's new 1992 E-One Protector on October 25 between 1:00 and 4:00 pm.

A quarterly report of complaints filed by customers to Continental Cablevision was also sent to the board, citing 131 complaints over picture quality for this quarter (out of 293 for the year) and 166 complaints of interruption of service (out of 229 for the year).

The minutes of the September 8, 1992 Council on Aging meeting was also sent to the board.

A report on a recent regular inspection of the landfill was filed by Inspector J. Thelen of Tighe & Bond. No outbreaks of lechate were observed during the site walkover and no other violations were noted.

Notification was sent from the Division of Marine Fisheries regarding the immediate closing of the creek east of Molly's Cove to shellfishing due to unacceptable water quality under Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 130, Sections 74A and 75. This area is restricted to the taking of shellfish.

Selectman Lambalot next discussed the status of Sgt. Marcosa of the Police Department, who is presently out of work due to two herniated disks, close to his spinal cord. Sgt. Marcosa has been off duty for 30 days and his doctor recommends that he come back on light duty. But Selectman Lambalot is concerned whether the injury is work related and if Sgt. Marcosa should be carried on sick leave until it is determined how serious his condition might be.

"I'd like to see some reports as to any previous conditions he might have suffered," Selectman Lambalot said, "and also talk to the Chief to see whether putting him back on duty is wise at the present time."

Selectman Mahoney agreed that the matter should be further investigated before any final decisions are made.

Executive Secretary Carol Adams said that Harbormaster Steve Mach called to let her know that he has purchased the new lights for long wharf and will put in an order for the 2-1/2 inch galvanized steel pipes on which to mount them.

There being no further business to discuss, the board was about to adjourn when resident John Atkinson asked that they go back to the issue of installing new lights on Long Wharf. Mr. Atkinson wanted to know where the money was coming from to purchase the $85 lanterns which he read about in The Wanderer.

Selectman Mahoney explained that the money was to be taken from the Waterfront

Enterprise Fund, which can be used only to make improvements and general repairs to town-owned, waterfront properties. This particular area being one of the most recognizable landmarks in town, the selectmen felt justified in taking measures to beautify it in the wake of damage incurred by Hurricane Bob.

But Mr. Atkinson questioned being spendthrift during a difficult financial time in town.

"I'd like to know what kind of priorities are we setting by purchasing these foolish, unnecessary things?" he asked.

"We think it's a good project to benefit the appearance of the waterfront area," Selectman Mahoney said, "and, obviously, you don't. But as the elected officials of this town, it was our decision."

There being no further business to discuss, the board voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:38 pm.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

October 20, 1992

By Chandra Dewing

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, October 20, 1992 at 7:00 pm by Chairwoman Loretta Schaefer. Also present were Selectman Edwin "Ted" Pratt Jr., Selectman James S. Dougall, Executive Secretary Ray E. Pickles and Secretary Helene Craver.

After signing warrants and bonds and approving the minutes of the October 13, 1992 meeting, the three year Department of Public Works (DPW) union contract was signed by the board. The present contract is different from the past one due to the salary increases of 5 percent, 3 percent and 3 1/2 percent of fourteen employees.

A meeting with DPW Superintendent Robert C. Zora and Richard Guerzoni was addressed concerning the status of the water distribution system. On October 14, the Marion Water Department utility operators gathered routine bacteriologic samples from the Marion water system. Three samples tested positive for bacteria at the Inman residence on Converse Road, the Mill Street tower and the lower point of Delano Road.

The Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has issued a town-wide "Boil Order." The Boil Order will remain in effect until there has been three consecutive days of clear tests, which would be at the earliest on Monday, October 26. In order to kill the potentially dangerous bacteria, the water should be boiled from two to five minutes, except in the case of showering and bathing.

Another problem posed at the meeting related to contaminated water at the silicate chemical feed buildings at the Main and Wolf Island Stations. Evidently, sodium silicate was contaminated with ammonium hydroxide and injected into the water system.

The concentrations of ammonia were well below any dangerous level that would threaten public health. At this time, however, there is an Internal Affairs Investigation underway to insure that this disaster is not likely happen again.

Gregg M. Berkley, President of the G.M. Berkley Corporation, sent an agenda of work for the proposed widening of the Planting Island Causeway. The proposed budget for the project will be $23,450.

At 7:15 a meeting with Robert C. Zora was called to order in reference to allegations of the abuse of DPW vehicles. DPW personnel keep vehicles at their homes in order so that they may be readily dispatched in the event of any water, sewer or highway emergency. But there have been complaints that the employees have been using the vehicles for other purposes.

It was determined that no real problem existed and Mr. Zora was confident that the members of his department were responsible people. If anyone has any questions or complaints regarding the misuse of said vehicles, they are to contact Mr. Zora at the DPW and provide him with detailed information so that he may research the complaint.

At 7:30 pm, the Cable Advisory Committee met with Selectmen regarding the negotiation of a new contract with Continental Cablevision. Contracts between the company and Marion Mattapoisett, Wareham and Rochester have expired and need to be renewed.

The Board of Selectmen will not sign a new contract until they seek opinions from legal council and receive further documentation on the renewal contract.

Fees for annual license renewals have remained the same since 1988. Due to economic times, the Board of Selectmen voted to keep the license renewal fees for 1993 the same as before.

Both Marion and Mattapoisett have previously approved the architectural and engineering project costs, but Rochester has twice denied an override to pay their share.

The next correspondence was sent by Clark L. Ziegler, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Housing Partnership (MHP) Fund, commending the Marion community's involvement with the MHP fund. The partnership continues to offer affordable housing, which addresses local housing needs.

There will be a meeting of the Rabies Advisory Group on Tuesday, October 27, 1992 at 7:30 pm in the Selectmen's conference room to address recent rabies concerns. Although there have been no reported cases in the area, Regional Sanitarian Karen Walega is eager to take precautionary measures against such an outbreak.

There being no further business or matters to come before the board, the Board of Selectmen adjourned for the evening.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

October 19, 1992

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, October 19, 1992 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Harry A. Brown Jr. Also present were Selectman Lorraine R.C. Roy and Secretary Shirley A. Ferreira.

After moving and approving the minutes of the October 13, 1992 meeting, Chairman Brown invited members of the Board of Assessors in to discuss classification of the town's tax rates for 1992-1993. A consensus from the Assessors was quickly reached that Rochester maintain a single tax rate for all four classes — these being residential, open space, commercial and personal property.

According to one board member, commercial and personal property taxes accounted for only 1.6 percent and .9 percent, respectively, of last year's income, suggesting that Rochester remains essentially a residential town and would benefit from keeping the single tax rate. Tax on the town's residential holdings accounted for 82.8 percent of total returns last year.

Chairman Brown moved to concur with the Board of Assessors' recommendation, which was seconded and made unanimous by Selectman Roy.

Incoming correspondence was next cited by Chairman Brown beginning with a letter from Regional Sanitarian Karen Walega concerning an upcoming meeting of the Rabies Advisory Group to be held on October 21 at 8:00 pm. Ms. Walega stressed her concerns over a recent rash of raccoon rabies which has been spreading to the Massachusetts borders. Two such cases were reported in the Fitchburg area. Ms. Walega hoped to set up the meeting to advise local officials of guidelines established by the Department of Public Health as a precautionary measure in case further outbreaks are reported.

Chairman Brown added that if such an outbreak occurs, the town might do well to contact Marion and prepare a regional approach for capturing and/or storing any infected animals.

Jo-Anne Haaland, Senior Class Co-Adviser at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School, wrote to the Board to request permission to use a portable lighted sign at the entrance to the school to announce their upcoming "Haunted Walk." The event — which is slated to take place on Thursday, October 29 and Friday, October 30 from 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm — is for children up to 13 years of age and is sponsored by the Senior Class.

Since the posting of temporary signs in town must be sanctioned by the Board of Selectmen, Ms. Haaland was writing to formally request their permission to do so.

Selectman Roy moved that the request be granted to post the sign beginning October 26 through October 30 so the school can have ample time to advertise the event. The motion was seconded and made unanimous by Chairman Brown.

A check totalling $105,155.50 was issued to the Town of Rochester from SEMASS for 55,343 tons of waste collected during the month of September.

Chairman Brown next noted promotional materials from the Massachusetts Housing of their picture during this quarter. Out of 124 total picture quality complaints filed this year, 55 were made in the third quarter.

Another 31 complaints were filed for interruption of service, most of which were caused by technical and/or storm related problems.

A final memo was sent from the law firm of Kopelman & Paige, P.C. regarding municipal compliance and retaining legal counsel. The informational memo suggested applying to various state agencies to help reduce escalating legal fees.

Chairman Brown next cited the following notices for the week:

- MMPA's Annual Labor Relations Seminar will take place on Thursday, October 29 from 8:15 am to 3:00 pm. This session, which will focus on municipal employees, will be held at the Sheraton-Milford Hotel in Milford, MA and costs $50 per person. Due to cost constraints, Chairman Brown said that no one from Rochester will be attending.

- Rochester Board of Appeals will hold a Public Hearing on Thursday, November 12 at 8:00 pm regarding a request made by Daniel Mullins, 341 New Bedford Road, to convert a single-family dwelling into a two family unit.

Both Chairman Brown and Selectman Roy next signed a Memorandum of Agreement from the Department of Public Works (DPW) District #7 to accept a Chapter 90 state grant in the amount of $50,839 for use on pending road repair projects. This money will essentially be used for several patch-up and repaving jobs including sections of Snipatuit Road.

Chairman Brown said that he and Highway Surveyor Jeff Eldridge attended the Massachusetts Transit Authority's auction last weekend. Despite some great deals, Mr. Brown admitted that the town couldn't afford to purchase any new equipment under the existing financial conditions.

"We put in seven bids on different items," Mr. Brown said, "but we only ended up buying a metal bookcase for $5.50."

The auction will be open to the public on October 29 and will include used State Police vehicles, DPW equipment and the like.

Secretary Shirley Ferreira next informed the board and those present that Marion's Executive Secretary Ray E. Pickles had contacted her earlier in the day to advise those Rochester residents who are tied into the Marion water system to boil their water as a precautionary measure. A small level of fecal coliform was detected in the Marion water supply earlier in the day, and Mr. Pickles thought it wise that affected Rochester residents also play it safe. Those tied into the Marion system, among others, include residents along New Bedford Road, Marion Road (Route 105) and Route 6.

At 7:30 pm, John Decas came before the board to discuss a dam on Walnut Plain Road which he owns and has been maintaining for some time. The dam, which filters water from Mill Pond onto Mr. Decas' 60-acre cranberry bog, is located on his property, but access to it has been blocked with a fence erected by his neighbor, Mr. Gomes.

Despite a lengthy and convoluted legal battle — in which Mr. Decas was ordered to desist from using the dam and trespassing on Mr. Gomes' property — Mr. Decas is concerned that a section of the dam is damaged and might collapse, causing irreparable damage to his and others' property.

In a letter from Attorney Walter Ramos, representing Mr. Gomes, present legal action notwithstanding, Mr. Gomes will allow the intervention of town officials in an emergency situation.

"We've discovered a weakness in one of the flumes on the dam," Mr. Decas said, "and I'm asking that the Board take some action to prevent any further problems. I felt this needed to be brought to your attention."

Two of Mr. Decas' employees and town Highway Surveyor Jeff Eldridge all examined the dam in question and testified that it was in desperate need of repair to avoid further damage. This being harvest time, Mr. Decas suggested the work be done within the next ten Rochester residents.

According to Mr. Peters, this eight-year-long battle began when Marion officials interpreted a state statute so as to deny Rochester residents the right to use property which previously belonged to them (i.e. before Marion was incorporated).

"I have been denied a slip in Marion as a resident of Rochester," Mr. Peters said. "It disturbs me that I've always heard stories about Rochester residents who enjoyed certain areas in Marion which are now off limits to them."

Mr. Peters cited the Acts of 1952 which supposedly grant equal shore rights to residents of Marion and Rochester.

Chairman Brown, explaining that the Board has pursued this matter in the past, was concerned that very little could be done to get straight answers from existing legislatures, since the laws were drafted so long ago.

But Mr. Peters was adamant to get a strict definition of the law from a state official.

"I only want to hear it from the horse's mouth," he said. "If I'm wrong, fine."

Another matter, which Mr. Peters called "a thorn in his side," was the subdividing and approval of the Bradford Estates, which Mr. Peters claims is built on a graveyard.

According to him, an 1857 map cited grave sites on the same tract of land where the Bradford Estates now exist. Claiming that the engineering firm contracted for the project withheld this information, he is seeking to erect a flat, stone marker on the site.

Chairman Brown, who is a direct descendent of some of the deceased in question, told Mr. Peters that there are no legal requirements to relocate or move grave sites with the exception of Indian burial grounds. Mr. Brown denied that his descendents — or anyone for that matter — were buried on that site.

"My descendents are all buried in Sherman Cemetery and you can't prove that any grave sites exist there," Mr. Brown said.

According to Chairman Brown, the map Mr. Peters referred to is an independently-made map which is subject to flaws and errors. Mr.

Brown also said that this matter has been fully investigated by the Historical Society and met the approval of the Planning Board before completion.

After further haggling, Chairman Brown advised Mr. Peters to bring some proof of his accusations and agreed to investigate the matter further if he did so.

There being no further business to discuss, the Board unanimously voted to adjourn at 8:43 pm.

Mattapoisett Recycling Committee

Minutes of October 15, 1992

An Inter-Town meeting will be held at the Wareham Town Hall on October 22 at 7:00 pm.

Invited towns include Acushnet, Bourne, Carver, Fairhaven, Falmouth, Lakeville, Marion, Mattapoisett, Plymouth and Rochester. On the agenda: update on individual town practices; report and discussion of Question Three on the November 3 ballot (better known as "The Recycling Initiative.")

Bob Field reported that by 1994-1995, the Mattapoisett landfill will have to be capped at the cost of $1 million. By that time, all but 15 percent of town refuse will be either incinerated at SEMASS or recycled. Just where that 15 percent will be dumped is under discussion.

The Board of Health is looking into the possibility of constructing a lined landfill area, a project that will cost $2 to $5 million. It has the potential of gaining a steady income for the town in the years to come. The alternative will be to pay another town for the use of their lined landfill.

Bob Field was asked about the present status of garbage pick-up. A major concern was whether the contract in place had the flexibility to adapt to and/or to take on the work of curbside recycling. He explained that while the person contracted to provide garbage pick-up for the town has failed, in seeking a new collector the terms of the contract cannot be substantially changed. However, the Board of Health could choose from among those bidding

It was agreed to regularize the Mattapoisett Recycling Committee's processes in order to accelerate the town's progress towards curbside.

Meetings will be held in the town hall on the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 pm. Minutes will be taken and circulated to members, to Selectmen and to the press.

New members will be recruited to the committee. Especially helpful would be people with marketing and/or management skills.

Bob Field announced that a search is underway to locate a trailer to house newspaper and cardboard recyclables. It should be in place by the end of the year, by which time the whole recycling area will have been moved to another part of the landfill. The question of how to make the area attractive was raised. Would other town organizations be interested in helping out? Bronie Apshaga agreed to speak with friends in the Lion's Club; Marilyn Flood to call the Garden Club friends in the Woman's Club.

The committee asked that the Board of Health clearly label a container for returnable bottles and cans so that the town will know that they are recycled by the Center. (In some towns, the money earned for turning them in is donated to a school project or some other town need.)

Bob Field reported that, while the compost is being saved for capping the landfill, the wood chips are available for use by town people. He warned that, as they make a great nesting material for insects, that they should not be placed near a building.

It was remarked that both Marion and Fairhaven are well on their way into curbside recycling. A major asset in Marion is Robert Zora, an avid supporter of recycling and head of the Marion Department of Public Works (DPW). In Fairhaven, a volunteer initiative gained the popular support needed to begin curbside at a town meeting. The Selectmen had agreed to let the question be raised of how many favored a first year try-out with a fee of $10 per household per half year (a fee to be waived once recycling began to earn a reliable income.)

It was agreed that everyone needs to learn more about procedures in other towns. Mel Smith will check out Martha's Vineyard where recycling has been in place for a long time and where the problem of marketing recyclables must be a special challenge. Richard Bates agreed to check out procedures in Foxboro where he works.

Key questions will include "How was/is curbside set up (fees supervision, range of materials)? and "How and where are the recyclables marketed (how packaged and transported, what minimum quantities and what income/fees)?"

If you are interested in distributing information about Question Three or want bumper stickers, lawn signs, fliers, information packets, please call 758-4241 and ask for Elleda Katan.

Ecumenical Service In 1821 Meeting House

This Sunday, October 25, at 3:00 pm an ecumenical church service, conducted by the Rev. George Taylor of Rochester, will be held in the Old Meeting House Christian Church, which now houses the Mattapoisett Museum at 5 Church Street, Mattapoisett.

Built in 1821, this building still contains the original pews, floor boards and balcony (called a gallery in those days). While the tall pulpit and the sounding board are not the original, they are patterned after the original.

The Rev. Edward Faunce was the minister of the first congregation of that church. In later years, his descendants established a trust, in his memory, to preserve and maintain the building.

was formed in the 1950's and it was decided to establish a town historical museum, the Trustees of the Christian Church were approached regarding the use of the building to house the museum. An agreement was reached and part of that agreement was that an ecumenical church service be held in the old church twice a year.

Therefore, you are invited to attend the service this Sunday in this historic old building and step back in time to the days of family-owned pews, foot warmers, prod poles, hour glasses and psalm singing. Contrary to some of those early services that went on for two and three hours or more, this service is considerably shorter.

books for children is found in the auditorium of Sippican School, on Spring Street, Marion. The Fair's theme is "Flying High," reflecting the enthusiasm of children who know that all books displayed at the Book Fair may be purchased and taken home — there are no order forms to fill out, and no waiting.

Browsers will find fiction and nonfiction, workbooks, picture books, jokes and mazes, and classics new and old for children preschool to age 13, as well as board books for toddlers. Paperback prices average $3.95 to $5.95, but a "bargain table" of lower-priced books will also be available.

The Book Fair opens with class visits by kindergarten and Grade 1 on Monday, November 2. The public is welcome during school hours (9:00 am - 3:00 pm) until the Fair closes at noon on Thursday, November 6. Special extended hours on Tuesday, November 3 from 9:00 am - 7:00 pm, and on Wednesday, November 4, from 9:00 am - 5:00 pm should make a Book Fair visit convenient for busy parents and grandparents.

For many area people, Christmas shopping begins at "Flying High." Adults will find a selection of fine holiday books, illustrated books, and other special hardcover volumes appropriate for gifts, made available through The Bookstall in Marion.

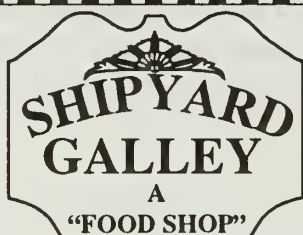

Proceeds of the Book Fair are used to support special programs of the Sippican School Library/Media Center.

program and is now spending a year at Old Rochester Regional High School. Veronica is living with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dawicki of Mattapoisett.

After five weeks of school, Veronica says that she is really enjoying her experience. Some school work is harder in America, while other work is a little bit easier. She commented that her classroom experience is more enjoyable for her. She really likes the give and take during classroom discussions.

Veronica has a goal of becoming a lawyer and it is very important to her that she improve her English skills while she is in America. Veronica and her AFS group are looking forward to a trip to New York to visit another American school and other AFS sponsored weekends where students from all over the world will gather to share their experiences.

Book Reviews

A Break with Charity: A Story about the Salem Witch Trials

• Ann Rinaldi, Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, $16.95

Both adult and young historical fiction readers will be fascinated by this book. Ms. Rinaldi has an uncanny talent for slipping into the skin of her characters.

In this novel, the daughter of a rich merchant tells her story. Susanna's money and station place her outside the circle of girls at the center of the hysteria, yet not outside their sphere of influence. Susanna knows that the accusations are put forth by young adolescents driven by revenge and a wish to escape the boredom of church and Bible reading.

Fearing for her family, she refuses to share this knowledge. As the fervor builds, so does Susanna's guilt and sorrow until finally she is rescued from "going down a dark road" by a loving friend and her own moral code. Rinaldi's research is flawless, her period familiarity is striking, but her strongest power is as a storyteller.

The Ghost Family Meets Its Match

• Nicole Rubel, Dial, $14.00

The author's humor of illustration and text is well expressed in this volume. It tells the history of a family who moves into a deserted 1880's mansion and successfully scares out potential residents for a century.

But when the Merry family moves in, the Ghost family's scare tactics only endear the house to the new owners. This confuses both ghosts and readers until the surprise ending when we learn that the Merry's are werewolves!

Discerning readers will note the changes in periods from Rubel's spirited detailing.

programs, and substance abuse prevention. "Since smoking costs Massachusetts taxpayers $1.5 billion every year in health care and lost productivity, the increased tobacco tax is tantamount to a user fee," said Dr. Daniel J. Shea, Associate Director of Emergency Services at Street Luke's Hospital of New Bedford and local spokesperson for the Massachusetts Coalition for a Healthy Future.

Dr. Shea described the campaign as a David vs. Goliath battle, with the wealthy tobacco industry already spending millions of dollars to fight Question 1. Tobacco companies must recruit 3,000 new customers each day to replace the smokers who die or quit, according to the U.S. Surgeon General.

Recent studies about the Joe Camel ad campaign have heightened public outrage about the tobacco industry's targeting of young people. More than 90 percent of today's smokers started the habit before their 19th birthday, even though selling cigarettes to minors is illegal in Massachusetts. The state Department of Public Health estimates that 38,000 children in Massachusetts start smoking each year.

The Massachusetts Coalition for a Healthy Future is led by the American Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division, the Massachusetts Medical Society, Blue Cross Blue Shield, and the Massachusetts Association of HMO's. Members include more than 100 nursing and public health organizations, women's groups, businesses, and minority advocacy groups.

For every 10 percent increase in the price of cigarettes, 12 percent fewer children will take up smoking, and four percent of adults will quit, according to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. A similar initiative petition, which took effect in California in 1989, has resulted in a 17 percent drop in cigarette consumption. Smoking is the leading preventable cause of disease and death in the United States, responsible for 434,000 premature deaths each year.

The American Cancer Society needs volunteers to hold signs at polling locations on Election Day as well as at busy intersections during the month of October.

Paskamansett Bird Club

As exciting as a pilgrimage to Mecca for True Believers is a pilgrimage to Plum Island for true birders. And for the area faithful it will take place this weekend.

Dr. George Haydock, past president of Dartmouth's Paskamansett Bird Club and a frequent leader to the popular birding site, will act as travel guide and species arbiter for local birdwatchers this Sunday, October 25. Anyone interested is cordially invited to join the caravan or carpool at 7:00 am. It will assemble in the western section of the Ann & Hope parking lot, Faunce Corner Road, opposite the North Dartmouth Mall.

The destination on the North Shore is celebrated in lore and legend as one of the most populous feeding stopover areas for migrating birds flying the Massachusetts coastline. Whenever an off-continent or otherwise rare and unusual bird is reported, invariably the dateline is Plum Island. It holds a special attraction for all types of feather-beings, be they of oceanic, terrestrial, or coastal preference; they are all there at one time or another.

Anyone wishing to be included in the jaunt to Plum Island should notify Dr. Haydock in advance by telephone to 993-6907, and to call to verify whether the trip will be made in the event of inclement weather. By the same token any registrant who changes plans should advise the leader. There is no participation fee for these not affiliated with the local club.

Individuals are free to return at their own preferred hour, but normally the group continues to bird until the excitement or the light fades, whichever happens first. All participants are requested to pack a lunch and beverage.

The next birdwalk scheduled by Paskamansett Bird Club will be on November 7 in the Lakeville/Middleboro area. Interested birders may inquire for details by phone to 636-2215. The next lecture program and evening meeting will be on November 11 at Allen's Neck Friends Meeting, South Dartmouth.

Zeiterion Theater

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde

Zeiterion Theater's Classic Film Series presents the legendary thriller, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde starring John Barrymore on Sunday, November 1 at 2:00 pm. The other films in this Sunday afternoon series are:

- It, starring Clara Bow on February 14
- Ben Hur with Ramon Novarro on April 4
- Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, starring Harry

Langdon on May 23

All the classic silent films are presented with live organ accompaniment by nationally-known organist, Lee Erwin on the restored Grimshaw-Gudewicz Wurlitzer Theater Organ which is maintained by the Southeastern New England Theater Organ Society.

A fine Grand Guignol thriller in its day, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde still remains a powerful and effective movie even now. Based on Robert Louis Stevenson's classic story of the hapless doctor who attempts to separate the good and evil personalities in man, this 1920 silent film starred John Barrymore in the bizarre leading role. Barrymore thoroughly enjoyed the chance to play this horrific doctor which comes across in the zest with which he throws himself into the more gruesome moments.

The Paramount directors did take some liberties with the story adding Nita Naldi, as a sexy dancer in a London dive, who displayed some incredible cleavage in a role not referred to in the original story. They also changed the motivation of the story by "borrowing" the character of Lord Henry from Oscar Wilde's The Picture of Dorian Gray and making him, in the person of Brandon Hurst, Dr. Jekyll's evil mentor.

The author might have minded, but audiences in 1920 were entranced by the film. Apart from literally two John Barrymores, and lovely Nita Naldi, they also had the charming

Lee Erwin of New York returns for his third season at the Zeiterion playing the silent film scores for all the classic films. Last month, he played the score for Down to the Sea in Ships which opened this year's classic film series. Mr. Erwin is known by millions of Americans as a featured organist on both radio and television for more than thirty years. He was the chief organist for the famous "Moon River" radio

American Cancer Society

Volunteer Opportunity Night

Residents of Greater New Bedford who are concerned about fighting cancer are invited to the American Cancer Society's Volunteer Opportunity Night, set for Wednesday, October 28, 6:00 pm at the Wamsutta Club on County Street in New Bedford.

"If you enjoy meeting people, writing, driving a car, driving a golf ball, or setting events in motion, the American Cancer Society has volunteer opportunities tailored to fit the time you have available to give," said Linda Camara, President of the Greater New Bedford Unit of the American Cancer Society, which covers Acushnet, Dartmouth, East Freetown, Fairhaven, Marion, Mattapoisett, New Bedford and Rochester.

The evening will include an overview of American Cancer Society training sessions and tools that prepare volunteers to carry out a variety of programs in the local area, including service to cancer patients and their families, fund raising, and bringing cancer information to adults and youth.

"Volunteer involvement not only enables the American Cancer Society to carry out its programs, but also gives an experience that's enriching, both personally and professionally, to the people involved," Ms. Camara said. "I speak from experience when I say that the emotional rewards are great, and the experience gained through the American Cancer Society applies not just to my volunteers involved in the greater New Bedford area."

American Cancer Society programs include public education about cancer risk reduction and early detection through quitting smoking, eating right, avoiding overexposure to the sun, and going for regular checkups. Professional education efforts bring the latest information about cancer detection and treatment to physicians, nurses and other health care professionals.

Volunteers with the Society's local patient and family services program help solve problems brought on by cancer and find resources to help. Communications volunteers help increase visibility for local programs through the news media, and the income development committee plans events

50th Birthday of Casablanca

New Bedford's Zeiterion Theater celebrates the 50th birthday of the film classic Casablanca with a special showing of a restored print on the theater's big screen on Saturday, October 24 at 8:00 pm, followed by a 40's party at "Rick's Cafe Americain" at the Sail Loft atop the Durant Sail Loft Inn, One Merrill's Wharf, New Bedford.

"A picture which makes the spine tingle and the heart take a leap ... they have so combined sentiment, humor and pathos with taut melodrama and bristling intrigue that the result is a highly entertaining and even inspiring film," wrote The New York Times of Casablanca's premiere in November, 1942.

The enduring appeal of Casablanca seems to result from the perfect melding of those elements which made up some of the best films of Hollywood's golden age: a group of colorful characters including Ingrid Bergman as Ilsa Laszlo, Humphrey Bogart as Rick and Paul Henreid as Victor Laszlo involved in a love triangle; an exotic locale such as Rick's Cafe Americain in Casablanca, French Morocco; first-rate supporting players including Claude Rains as Renault, the French Police Officer and Dooley Wilson as Sam, the piano player; melodramatic incidents; tough, humorous, cynical dialogue; sentimental interludes; and idealism and heroic commitment to a cause.

Casablanca had its local premiere at the Zeiterion, when it was called the State, on February 3, 1943 in the midst of World War II. The film, described as "a date with fate in the city that rocked the world," was shown as a double feature with Laugh Your Blues Away at the State. On Saturday, October 24, Casablanca

The Video Review

By Rob Gonsalves

Shadows and Fog (PG-13) — A shopping spree of a movie, in which Woody Allen pushes his cart through the High Art supermarket and samples bits of Kafka, Bergman, Murnau, Fritz Lang, Brecht, and Weill. If you can catch all the references, you're too smart for the film. Woody stars as a nebbish who gets caught up in a manhunt for a mysterious strangler in some undefined European city of the '20's. It's funny at first to watch Woody babbling his insecurities into the void of a stark, Expressionist backdrop, but this joke, like much else in the movie, wears thin very fast ... with lots of meaningless cameos. C-

Basic Instinct (R) — As one of the few American critics who will admit to enjoying this controversial thriller, despite its many stupidities and leaps of logic, I'm a bit disappointed that the video version is the bowdlerized R-rated print we saw in theaters, not the hotter European version we were once promised. Sigh. Still, Michael Douglas (as a beleaguered, scuzzy cop) turns in one of his more daring performances, and Sharon Stone, as the bisexual ice-pick queen, emerges as a star to watch. Directed with flash and lots of gleefully cynical conviction by Paul Verhoeven (Robocop, Total Recall). B+
